Just a reminder that TST doesn't like it when you post terrible shit they do publically because of "harm to the community" 🙄

Here is the conversation I had with IC that got me quietly removed from groups so I wouldn't cause a fuss because I refused to take down my post about the SoCal Chapter Heads being abhorrent asshats

I was directly a part of all that, and it was handled internally. The frustrating thing for a lot of people is that when ic handles stuff sometimes the person filing the complaint doesn't know that action was taken other than to be told "action was tak... See more

I mean I'm nowhere near any of that at the current time to be able to influence or help, I'm not sure you're aware of that. But I'll say I always wanted to know how I could have made things better.

And I'm sorry. I know how hard you worked.

Amber Turrill this isn't about how hard I worked, that comment details from the actual issue of tar covering up their wrongdoings instead of addressing them. They are so focused on their external appearance that they are happy to sweep anything and ev... See more

Your composure and restraint in how you communicate is admirable. I know how hard it is to keep emotions and expletives in check when defending yourself. Praise be to the backspace key! Kudos to your calm badassery~

That's why I avoid all organized religion... Just give me some chaos witches and a fire pit... Skyclad optional.

You clearly experienced abuse and provided proof of your claims and this Chris guy is being totally useless. Instead of disciplining and expelling these abusive members, he just says 'I never had those experiences' and dismisses and gaslights you. He c...

Desi Gomez the scary thing is not only is he IC, but the whole IC group agreed with him that not staying quiet was grounds for dismissal. It has become very obvious the morals they claim within their tenets are not something they actually follow.

to attend meetings in my email to IC asking for follow ups

So, I'm sorry to bring this all up. It's just frustrating for me to see things like this go public when I'm more than happy to help work through them. It hurts the community, and that's not what i want, and I know you don't either.

I see those comments from Regina in the form, my apologies.

I dont, which is why I was silent for several months on this issue. But to be honest, IC didnt do anything about it, I was still unable to go to meetings, and the weight of what happened and the unfair and abusive treatment was giving me crazy amounts of anxiety.

I'm sorry you dealt with that. I was told at length that you attending meetings was no issue at all.

I find a lot of what Omen says to be highly untruthful

That's unfortunate. There's not much I can do about that.

Likewise

Least you've had similar

Likewise

I can't say I've had similar experiences.

This was a first for me as well, which is probably why it left me unable to sleep at night on more than one occasion

Have you ever had something that bothered you so much you couldn't make your brain stop to sleep? This was that for me.

More often than I care to admit. This Organization kills me somedays.

I believe it. I cant imagine how hard it must be to handle so much on IC

You guys do a LOT

IC is a full time job by itself

It's a bit much sometimes, but it's worth it. And I know you feel the same.

True

Which is why it's so disheartening to see internal problems aired so publicly. I understand the frustration

It's such a shame @satanic\_temple\_ turned out to be so hypocritical

We all had such high hopes for them

Covering up abusive behavior from your leaders to maintain an external image is gross

Punishing the victims and rewarding the abusers is gross

TST should be ashamed
